

County Commission Forwards City's Request For Four-Laning Of SR 15

Palm Beach County Commissioners Monday placed forwarding of SR 15 (US 441) for 2.2 miles north from Hillsborough Canal bridge at Main St. at Belle Glade on the recommended list for State Road Department projects and forwarded their written approval along with Resolution 915 of the City of Belle Glade to SRD officials.

Commenting this week on the matter, Commissioner Paul Rardin said he thinks it would be good to have a four-lane highway to the courthouse annex at Hooker Highway. He went on to say that the SRD budget for this year was closed; however, it would get proper consideration at the next budget sessions.

This instant's action, if approved, would take more than two years to become reality. Resolution 915 is titled: "A resolution for the City of Belle Glade, Florida, to petition the Florida State Road Department, to begin as promptly as possible, the widening of the Hillsborough Canal bridge, beginning at the intersection of Ave. A and Main St., in the city of Belle Glade, Florida, to the Glades Office Building, located on State Road No. 15, a distance of approximately 2.2 miles."

As reported in last week's Herald, the resolution went on to say the commissioners wanted to keep abreast of the inevitable progress of the said area of this community, and it also cited the promotion of the general safety and welfare of the citizens within all areas of the community.

When asked for further detail on the July 8 action, Mayor R. W. Lanier this week pointed out that the county's third largest city ought to be entitled to take part in the improvement (Continued On Page Eight)

Market Receipts Show Big Jump

Gross receipts at the Monday Glades Livestock Market were $109,602.20 for 910 cattle, according to the weekly market bulletin. It was the 11th largest sale of the year and the 11th time receipts have exceeded $100,000. It was also the largest sale in the past five weeks.

Fifty-three percent of the offering were steady to higher on all classes except stocker steers which ranged 80 cents to $1.50 lower than the previous week. Compared to a week ago slaughter steers and calves sold steady, heifers were steady to 50 cents higher, cows sold 50 cents to $1 higher and bulls sold steady to $1 higher.

The market bulletin stated that there was a distinct short of stocker steers and that demand he would continue for the next six weeks.

FCD Prevented Water Damage

Engineers Say

Army Engineers evaluating results of the heavy rainfall of June 16-21 over south Florida have found that about $11,500,000 in damages were prevented by works of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control Project. In other areas where project works have not yet been provided, some $400,000 in damages were reported by Colonel Paul D. Troxler, District Engineer for the Corps of Engineers in Jacksonville.

During the heavy rainfall period of June 16-21, an average of eight to 10 inches fell in the Caloosahatchee River Basin. Average rates for other areas were seven to eight inches in the Kissimmee River area, eight to nine in the Lake Okechobee environs, nine to 10 inches over the agricultural area south of the lake, and eight to nine inches over the Everglades. In some areas, the east coast area, heaviest rains, approaching 15 inches, occurred in the area between Lake Okechobee and West Palm Beach.

Troxler stated that engineers and agricultural economists from his office have estimated damages prevented by canals, pumping stations, and other works of the project at $1,500,000. Rapid removal of the heavy prolonged rainfall prevented these damages to urban developments, highways, canals, and pasture lands in the agricultural area south of the lake and along the east coast of the state.

Lake Okechobee reached elevation 15.1 feet above sea level July 12, 1959, 29 inches above pre-storm levels. Kissimmee River was putting in about 8,200 cubic feet a second, with other inflow sources contributing an even greater amount. Discharge was being held back by the Corps of Engineers at the practicable maximum rate of about 7,000 cubic feet a second.

High School Plans For DCT Program Next Semester

Diversified Cooperative Training, which is offered at Belle Glade High School this fall, according to an announcement this week by Principal Pellon Morris. This marks the first time BGHS has offered the course.

According to Wayne Fortenberry, who will be teacher-coordinator of DCT next fall, the program of DCT was explained to various employer groups earlier this year. Selected training agencies will be contacted before school starts to make arrangements for various courses.

Fortenberry pointed out that DCT accomplishes two main objectives: 1. The program helps students find a place in the business world. 2. It helps employers to train young people in specific trades and businesses and helps hold young people in the community.

To be a success, Fortenberry pointed out, "the program takes the cooperation of the community employer, parent, school and teacher-coordinator. DCT will be a two-year program for juniors and seniors with an average who are (Continued On Page Eight)

Avenue B Repair Began This Week

City Manager C. B. Talmadge announced that paving operations on S.E. Ave. B from Main St. to 1st St., started this week. The project will include building curbs, gutters and sidewalks on all but a short space on the south side of the street. Paving of way was not obtained for that area, he said.

In one other element of news concerning streets, Talmadge said Robin Construction Co. has not started the street repair (The Herald, July 9), but when work started the first phase of the repaving would be at S. W. 2nd St.

Boat Registration Forms

Forms for pleasure boat owner registration are expected to be available at Glades Office Building July 20 for proper compliance with boating regulations, according to Mrs. E. L. Young, of the tax collector's office.

Memorial Hospital Drops Its Tax Rate To 3.2 Mills

Improved operation and administration at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital during the past year will result in an even greater amount of service at a lower tax rate next year, according to Floyd Miller, Jr., hospital administrator.

The Southwestern Palm Beach County Public Hospital Board, which controls the hospital, has notified Palm Beach County Commissioners by resolution that the millage rate will be 3.2 mills, a decrease of two-tenths of a mill from last year, Miller said.

The difference will be some $3,000 in money or $103,000, and Miller said, "We'll do more with the $103,000 than we did with the $106,000 last year."

Miller's letter to the commission said:

"Due to improved methods of management, we are happy to inform you that our enclosed resolution and certificate covering the millage deemed necessary to operate this hospital, reflects a decrease in dollar requirement. . . . During the past year our total hospital bill was $2,770 admissions with over 411 births. From these figures alone, we feel sure you will understand our attitude of conservatism. . . . It is our hope that the new methods of service and control at time of admission will permit further reduction requests each year."

The budget of two years ago showed a 7.5 mill rate produced $82,000 in county funds. Reassessment caused the rate to drop to 3.4 last year but produce $24,000 more money which was used principally for patient care and patient care equipment.

Miller praised the work of the hospital board, Ladies Auxiliary, medical staff, welfare and health departments as well as the individuals of the community for their help in making a better-operated hospital a reality.

"The end result is, we're getting a better hospital operation," Miller said. "We have a streamlined bookkeeping practice out one-third of the work, the hospital now has the services of a radiologist, a pathologist, Everett W. Jones, Hospital Consultant, is expected to start up with more ideas for better operation when his term is submitted next month, Miller said.

Miller produced figures from the American Hospital Assn. showing that while the Belle Glade had 2,270 admissions and 411 births while Cleveland's (Continued On Page 8)

County Schedules Preliminary Talks On $40,000 Glades Building Addition

Preliminary talks with court house officials at West Palm Beach and an architect were scheduled to get underway this week on plans for the $40,000 addition to the Glades Office Building, according to County Commissioner Paul Rardin, Canal Point.

Not yet a year old, the office building has provided a vital service to Glades residents, according to Rardin, who said the additional space was not specifically assigned to a department; however, he did know that part of the addition would be built on the south side of the existing building—would include a small claims court room and probably additional space for the Sheriff's Department.

Small Claims Court Judge F. A. Currie will begin holding court here at least once each month in October and increase hearing days as the number of claims increase. Rardin said state representatives had cleared the legal way and money would be in the county budget for the beginning of court hearings at the building.

Rardin said the $40,000 addition would probably be started just after the first of 1960. The funds are in next year's fiscal budget and no start order could be arranged before October at the earliest.

Glades Office Building was dedicated Aug. 31, 1958 and opened officially for business Sept. 2, 1958. Rardin pointed out that the necessity for the building has been clearly demonstrated in less than a year's time as reflected in many services obtained at the building. In almost each case where a service has been rendered, the need for the building has been eliminated.

Another savings to taxpayers is the reduced mileage fees of the Sheriff's Department who now charges mileage for the distance from West Palm Beach to the "little courthouse." Previously the charge included the distance from West Palm Beach to the county seat.

Following are excerpts of monthly department reports for the City of Belle Glade submitted to City Manager B. Talmadge. Each month's reports are submitted to Talmadge for presentation to city commission.

Policies Department: Sixty-two arrests, 48 convictions, three turned over to county and one to juvenile authorities and ten dismissed. Two breaking and entering cases reported. Fifty-six cases fingerprinted, filed, classified and forwarded to FBI. Daily jail population averaged 50. Eight traffic accidents investigated. There were 340 parking meter tickets issued through June 15. Motor revenue: $377.06; bond and fine revenue: $1,039.21.

Policies Department: Eight accidents saw one person injured. 1889 period. No damage to vehicles. Causes of accidents: two each for failure to yield right of way and following too closely, one each for jaywalking, wrong side of street, illegal speed, improper turn.

Street Department: Worked on North Canal St. (E) where road was in need of repair; installed culverts and ailed and aligned extensively in the city.

Building-Sanitation: Valuation report previously reported. A total of 254 building, five sanitation inspectors, 48 inspections for general condition of buildings. The city made 179 trips to the city in making 279 building inspections at a cost of $3,716.46 and spent $204.90 for spraying and dusting with ground equipment.

Fire Department: Five fires reported for 1959 in town only, one fire out of town. 1889 period. No damage to power line shorted, one no-fire alarm.

Police Department: Eight accidents saw one person injured. 1889 period. No damage to vehicles. Causes of accidents: two each for failure to yield right of way and following too closely, one each for jaywalking, wrong side of street, illegal speed, improper turn.

Ingram Qualifies First For OB

Incumbent City Commissioner Z. T. Ingram became the first candidate for the city's general election Sept. 15 to retain his Central Borough post when he left his application for the commission race. Anderson said Ingram, who will be seeking his fourth term, will reaffirm his application to the commission race is ended later this month.

Candidates for the city commission race may file July 17 or later. The commission race is ended later this month. No other official statements or actions have been made by either parties concerning the election.

Incumbent commissioners Paul Davidson and R. W. Lanier have no plans to seek re-election.

Commissioners William Evans and Palmer January each have another year to serve on their terms.

Murder Charges Dropped Trial For Other Crimes

The County Solicitor's office has dropped murder charges against a Belle Glade Negro woman and ruled that she shot her husband in self defense, according to Deputy Sheriff Bobby Newman.

Edward Briggs, 34, of 221 1/2 St. in a rooming house at 334 S. W. 7th St. during an argument with his wife, William Briggs May 12 with a 22 pistol in a rooming house at 334 S. W. 7th St. during an argument with his wife.

According to reports the argument developed over Briggs' accusation that the woman beat his shoe. Allegedly, Briggs struck or beat the woman and she shot him. The Solicitor's office ruled she shot him in self defense.

Two other murder cases were in the news this week with the announcement that United States, 27, Belle Glade Negro who stabbed Mary Peterson May 5, 1959, was scheduled for trial July 29 on a first degree murder charge.

Also, Lee W. Darway, 48, Belle Glade Negro, will be tried Sept. 14 on a second degree murder charge. Darway allegedly stabbed Leroy Williams, also a Negro, at The Ditch Apr. 8.

Fingerprint Section Helps Curb Crimes

Major crimes at Belle Glade have decreased during the past year, according to Police Chief Charles Goodlett. With the exception of five murder cases, the chief says, the routine, day-to-day crime rate has declined in the July 59 saw a decline in the murder crime rate.

Activities of the activities of the police force by no means at a low ebb; however, the police force has been developing into a modern and efficient department since its re-organization in the late 40s.

In addition to police duties, the department supervises the activities of the game warden, loading of field labor at the loading zone, the street marking and the placement of directional signs and signals for traffic control.

Big Business: Operation of the police department is big business. The city's 1958-59 budget for the department was $78,194.75 and $67,866.78 for salaries alone. The rest was $10,328 for operating expenses and $4,030 for capital expenditures.

The police department also conducts traffic investigations which result in the creation of policies and ordinances which control traffic and parking problems.

The Force: Presently, the chief has one police lieutenant, two sergeants, (one is a special city investigator, a position created in 1957) and 10 patrolmen, six of which are Negroes. In addition, the force includes a parking meter attendant, school Crime Reporter for the FBI.

Figures were obtained from records kept for the National Crime Reporter of the FBI.

1959 Report: Since Dec. 31, 1958 the department made 1,445 arrests of which convicted 1,108; turned 36 over to county authorities; and 40 to juvenile officers; and dismissed 237 cases for various reasons. A total of 87 accidents were investigated.

Chief causes of accidents, the chief said, were failure to yield right of way in one form or another and following too closely, generally where excessive speed was a factor.

The city has one of the best fatal-accident incident rates in the state. The National Safety Council has awarded the city a certificate for five of the past eight years and in each year, 1958 and 1959, only one death resulted from the record.

Identification Records: Since the department created its fingerprint and identification section in 1949, the files have increased to one of the best and largest in the country with approximately 12,000 cards on file.

The system is so efficient that the department has earned a reputation of respect. "The word has gone out," Chief Goodlett said, "that Belle Glade has a good bureau, and that if a person was identified here, he'd get not get put in the Belle Glade jail."

Just how well the bureau of fingerprint identification works is seen in the record that during the second year of its operation, less than 40 persons were discovered by the FBI. Since then the department has averaged discovering about 100 persons a year. The FBI and six to ten persons each month are apprehended for other agencies all over the country.

All arrested persons are fingerprinted and their prints classified. A copy is sent to the FBI as a general routine. After processing the prints, the federal agents notify Belle Glade if the person is wanted or not before their file is actually closed for good.

Section Created: Three years ago a specific officer was assigned to the fingerprint section and the position has been a separate post since that time. Louis Funk was the first ID officer. He is now operating a private detective agency.

Thomas Whitaker took the position next and was subsequently replaced by Ralph Clark who worked for Palm Beach County Sheriff Ralph Kirk before becoming a special investigator for the Sheriff's Department at Titusville.

D. B. Mathis held the position before he was reassigned as a patrolman. George Farnell became ID officer in May 1958. His two assistants are Dean Congleton and Phillip Brown.

Training: In addition to routine everyday training in police work, many of the police officers have attended special FBI and vocational training schools which train policemen to do their jobs better.

Complementing the personnel of the department is a photo lab and modern field investigation equipment. All together, these make our city considerably more fortunate than a great many other cities.

BG Swimming Team Takes 22 Ribbons

Two outstanding accomplishments of Belle Glade Municipal Swimming Pool's summer swimming sessions have been the strides made in teaching many youngsters to swim and the development of a young swimming team for the first time in the city's history, according to Tom Stewart, pool operator and instructor.

Seen above are members of the latest evening class to receive certificates of completion in Stewart's 10-day swimming course, but that news was overshadowed last week by the outstanding results of the city's swimming team which took part in the county Junior Olympic Championships held July 11 at Howard Park, West Palm Beach.

County Champ Ten-year-old Linda Rockwell, presently of Belle Glade, but who moved to Pahokee for the 25-yd free style race for girls ten-and-under. It was one of 22 ribbons captured by the team during the meet. Stewart said: Stewart pointed out that the team had been working only the last few days and such accomplishments during so short a period of time was outstanding. Ten of his top team members will attend a Tampa Invitational meet for state competition this weekend.

Answers Given About New Boat Regulations

Following is the first of two articles to appear in The Herald concerning the new boat registration act. The act went into effect July 1; however, because of the problems and initial work involved in setting up procedures for registration, it may be some time before every boat owner can register his boat. A reasonable time will be given for every owner to register his vessel.
 WHAT BOATS ARE COVERED? The act applies to any undocumented vessel propelled by machinery of more than 10 horsepower, whether or not the machinery is the principle source of propulsion.
 WHO ADMINISTERS THE ACT? The Florida State Board of Conservation.
 WHERE CAN BOAT BE REGISTERED? Office of County Tax Collector, for pleasure boats of Office of Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, Tallahassee; State Board of Conservation, Tallahassee, for commercial boats.
 WHAT IS REGISTRATION PROCEDURE? The owner of the boat fills out an application for registration number, signs the form, and a fee based on length of boat.
 WHAT IS COST? The following schedule is in addition to a 25¢ handling charge: Boats up to 16 feet long, $1.50; 16 feet to and including 25 feet, $2.50; 26 feet to and including 39 feet, $5.00; 40 feet and over, $10.00. The cost of registration covers a boat for TWO YEARS.
 WHAT IS SHOWN ON THE CERTIFICATE OF REGISTRATION? Each certificate carries the number awarded to the motorboat, the name and address of the owner a description of the motorboat.
 WHAT IS THE NUMBER ON THE CERTIFICATE FOR? This number must be placed (painted or attached) on each side of the forward half of the vessel so as to be clearly legible. The numbers are to be in block characters, in good proportion, not less than three inches in height. Numbers are to contrast with background of boat.

 Next week's article will contain more questions and answers pertaining to the new boat registration act.
